

SATURDAY, APRIL 29

INDEPENDENT BOOKSTORE DAY

10th Anniversary

Roundtable Talks

10:00am-10:45am

Specialized Writing - Magazine, Micro Fiction, and Outdoor/Fitness with Marla Cantrell and Jim Warnock

Marla is the winner of the Arkansas Arts Council Fellowship Award for Short Fiction and has had more than 100 short stories published in magazines and several national and international anthologies.

When you get the chance to hear from someone who really knows the trail system like Jim Warnock, it's no wonder why the Ozark Mountain region is such a popular destination. Jim will discuss his method for writing about the trail system right here in our beloved Ozarks!

11:00am-11:30am

TRUE CRIME: Book Four! The Passion Continues with Anita Paddock

At the age of 78, Anita penned three true crime novels that took place right in this area! Now, at 82, she has finished number four. Book #4 is here and she is ready to tell you all about it. Come listen to Anita share about her research and her plans moving forward.

1:00pm-1:30pm

Historical Fiction-At Its BEST, By the BEST! with Joyce Faulkner & Tom Wing

Learning about a famous murder that happened in Fort Smith in 1897 will keep you on the edge of your seat. "Julia & Maud" is ready for the shelves with stories to be told. Meet both authors and ask questions about their newest book, published at any time.

2:30pm & 3:30pm Children's Story Time

3:00pm-3:30pm

Children's Books Make a Statement with Patti Farris & Rachel Redins

These two authors have focused on children's books that give inspiration in their own special way. Come listen to a session on how and why they got started!
